Although I already knew that... you had to pay to cross the turn pike. There was a windmill there. I already knew that it had nine horses ages ago, and the main jobs were farming. I have learnt some new facts that there were millers who mixed lime stone and chalk to make lime flower.

I also learnt that... Richard owned the windmill first and his wife was Dorothy who was born at Barnard castle.

Another fact learnt... Shon was born at Curbey Stever and later passed the mill to his son Shon who used to be a doctor.

Another fact I learnt... I learned that Shon was wealthy and he had three children. However the most interesting fact I learnt was when the millers mixed lime stone and chalk together so it looked like flour and also when Richard Dodd passed down the mill.
